○ Profile

I am a 2009 Penn State University graduate with a BA in print journalism and an English minor. I have lived in two different countries; I was born in Taipei, Taiwan and moved to the United States at the age of eight. I have since resided in Arizona, Texas, Maryland and Pennsylvania, and have attended seven different schools between the four states. Because of my family's constant relocation, I have learned to adapt to new environments quickly and become very independent. I am driven with the purpose of getting done what needs to be done and utilize my creativity to help reach goals.
